White Deer Mountain Lodge, San Lorenzo

Simultaneously understated and sumptuous, the 16th century-built White Deer San Lorenzo Mountain Lodge offers year-round luxury within the stunning Dolomites. It's the attention to detail - the softness of the Italian linen sheets, the aroma of natural oils wafting throughout the space, the lovingly cooked local delicacies - that distinguishes it from standard alpine accommodation and has guests returning time and again. If you can drag yourself away from the gorgeous interiors, ensure that you get out and embrace the beautiful nature surrounding the chalet: there's hiking, rafting and cycling to be done in spring and summer, while winter calls for cross-country skiing and moonlight sledding.
